To whom its concerns:

I am happy to write to support the IBISCA Project (Investigating Biodiversity of Soil and Canopy Arthropods). The important biodiversity assessment, placed into a good characterization of the habitat appears very pertinent. The protocols used in several tropical areas will allow very interesting comparisons, and will provide important information for the functional aspect of the tropical forest.

The Herbarium of the Centre IRD of Nouméa will provide facilities to access to its collections to any scientist involved in this project.

We will also be very happy to participate to this program.

Sincerely

Jérôme Munzinger
